

SWOC XMAS SCORE EVENT COSMESTON 28/12/14

ORGANISER'S COMMENTS

The event ran as smoothly as expected (lol) with the usual SWOC efficiency!

Stupid me for not checking all the equipment thoroughly before the event, but no thanks to whoever was responsible for putting the wrong download station in the box with the printer. It all went together perfectly at all my previous events, so I had no reason to suspect a download with the wrong cable.....

THANKS to Graham Tough for bringing his computer along and somehow inputting all the competitors details before his run. Also THANKS to all the competitors for attending the event and for hanging around long enough for Graham to finish and download everyone (except 3). If those 3 would like to send me a list of the controls visited, I'll add them to the results.

THANKS also to Peter Havard and Graham Tough for helping me at Registration and for Caroline and Nick Dallimore for helping me collect controls.

Comments on the RESULTS. I have made a change from the preliminary results to the method of calculating competitors handicap scores. I have applied the Age Handicap BEFORE deducting the late penalty. It was pointed out to me that the method I was using (as per SWOC Street Events) unfairly penalises competitors with a higher handicap who are late back. For example, if an M21 scores 100 and has a late penalty of 10, his final score is 90. If someone with an age handicap of 2 scores 50 and has a late penalty of 10, they should also end up with 90. The SWOC street method gives $50 - 10 = 40 \times 2 = 80$, the revised method gives $50 \times 2 = 100 - 10 = 90$. Of course, this only effects the score of people who were late back.

I have also separated Juniors from Seniors. The reason for this is that I have calculated the handicaps from Running Speeds given in a table on the BOF website. Unfortunately, these don't seem correct for juniors as M and W 10s appear to be faster than M/W 12s. I got over this last year by making up figures for M/W10s and I've used these again. If anyone has any better figures, please let me know.

I have included Splits (without the bonus) as these show what everyone did.

Apologies to you all for having to hang around to download and to Gill Lock who was bitten by a dog during her run (but still managed to get a pretty good score!) This concerns me greatly, as I think that runners should have access to areas like this without threat from out of control dogs. Should all dogs be on leads in public spaces?
